1. the junction of two rivers, especially rivers of approximately equal width;

2. an actual or process of merging.

---

For you oh noble grief
For you oh sweet dream
For you oh homeland
For you oh Nile
For you oh night
Oh good and beautiful one
Oh my charming country

(Oh Nubian face,
Oh Arabic word,
Oh Black African tattoo)

Oh My Charming Country (Ya Baladi Ya Habbob), a poem by Sidahmed Alhardallou written in 1972, which has become one of the most popular songs of Sudan, performed by the much loved singer Mohamed Wardi. It speaks of Sudan as one land, praising the country's diversity.